Woodrum-Media Expands Digital Darkroom

We now have a large format printer with the ability to produce photos up to 24 inches wide. So now, Woodrum-media can offer digital darkroom services to produce the highest quality images from your digital files. Currently, we are offering photo quality enlargements, but if there is the demand, we will also soon start producing Giclee prints and paper choices of photo quality, canvas or watercolor archival paper. To print out the current prices for digital lab services, go to <http://www.woodrum-media.com/images/lab%20prices.pdf>

Lab Service time for all Digital Services - 24 hours

- ◆ All digital package prints and enlargements produced on Epson Ultra Premium Luster photo paper utilizing Epson Claria or Epson Ultra K-3 ink, which has an archival life of 98 to 198 years. Proofs are made on Epson glossy surface paper.

Les Woodrum Wins First Place Photography at Danville's "Arts in the Park"

Les Woodrum won First Place - Photography at the 2012 Danville "Arts in the Park." The Arts in the Park show judges the entire display, not just one photo. This is the third win in the last four years for Les Woodrum at this show.

Many new works are included in this year's display including many new photos from the Great Smoky Mountains, Southern Illinois and a very unusual 360° panoramic image mounted in the round taken in Shenandoah National Park.

Les will exhibit next at the Salt Fork River Art Festival at the Sleepy Creek Vineyards, south of Oakwood, IL, September 29-30.

Tour being Planned to Southern Utah in Fall of 2013

In conjunction with premier landscape photographer and Danville native Dick Cunningham, a photo tour of southern Utah is being planned for October, 2013. The tentative date October 19-26, 2013. Dick's panoramas of the west are fantastic. Dick and I are still working out the exact dates and details, but if you are interested, contact Les at lesw@woodrum-media.com for more information.

Plans are in the works for a photo tour of Yellowstone National Park tentatively scheduled for early June, 2013. Les Woodrum will lead the group and provide photographic instruction for participants. Plans include an eight day-seven night trip. Hotel accommodations will be in the park for six nights and two nights will be spent in Jackson Hole, WY. Sites will include all the major geyser basins, the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone, The beautiful Hayden Valley, Yellowstone Lake and Mammoth Hot Springs area. The trip will also spend a day in the Tetons National Park.

Les Woodrum has photographed Yellowstone numerous times beginning in 1988 during the great Yellowstone Forest Fires. There will be opportunities to photograph both on your own and as a group. Nightly critiques and instructional sessions are included.

Although the exact price and date has not been set, contact Les Woodrum at lesw@woodrum-media.com if you are interested in attending. Final details will be worked out within the next two weeks, and I will send out a flier when details are finalized. This trip will be limited in enrollment, and people have already signed up for the trip.

Photo of the Quarter

Kennekuk Prairie ©2011

Although I took this photo last fall, surprisingly, it has become a favorite at the show circuit this summer. As with most of my color photos, I am still shooting medium format color film, but then scanning the transparencies.

Camera - Bronica Sq-a, 40mm lens, Velvia 50 Transparency Film, Exposure - 1/15 sec. at  $f/22$  - scanned transparency using a Canon 8800F Canoscan Scanner
